

Q'ushin'tul was born and raised in Cowichan Tribes territory. He is a father and grandfather, and he believes in connecting cultures through respect, honour in ceremonies, and circles. For many years he has worked with youth on pride in culture, drum and dance, storytelling, sweatlodge, and sports. He always turns to nature for learning, teaching, healing, and understanding, bringing back ceremony with fire, water, land, air and environment.